Harvard Students Kick Councilman

CAMERA STUDIES OF RED-HEADED JOHANNA HOFMANN, ACCUSED AS NAZI SPY IN NEW YORK TRIAL OF THREE

Mother Pawn in Court Row

A daughter today in Middlesex probate court testified that she thought the intoxication of her 85-year-old father "seven times" a month was "sufficient reason" for her mother to leave home.

The witness was Mrs. Margaret McKenna of Fairmount avenue, Winchester, one of five children of Mrs. Margaret E. Kerrigan, formerly of Stoneham, who are engaged in a feud over custody of the mother.

"Father always used liquor," Mrs. McKenna testified, "and was always fighting with my mother."

LEWIS WITH DAUGHTERS

The mother, 79, is now making her home with Mrs. McKenna at the Winchester address. Living with them is another daughter, Miss Alice Kerrigan, head of the science department at Boston Teachers College.

Owen Kerrigan, 85, has petitioned the court to determine whether his wife is being held under duress at the McKenna residence in Winchester.

Under direct examination, Mrs. McKenna told Judge Joseph P. Monahan that she "counselled" her mother about leaving the Stoneham home but denied she "intended" her to do so.

TELLS OF COUNSEL

Testifying further concerning her reasons for "counseling" her mother to change her residence, Mrs. McKenna said she had seen her father so intoxicated on one occasion that "he could not walk upstairs."

Mrs. McKenna told the court her mother came to live with her in Winchester in July of this year after having lived for 28 years in their Stoneham home.

She denied she had ever handled her mother's affairs or had assumed control of her bank-books.

"My mother once told me," the witness continued, "that Joe (Dr. Joseph M. Kerrigan of Stoneham, a son) had asked her for her bank-books."

Spy Accuses Ex-Pal; Woman Enters Case

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (INS)—Freshly-shaven and as self-confident as the web of intrigue he attempted to weave was weak, Guenther Gustave Rumrich took the witness stand in federal court today to accuse a former fellow-defendant of assisting him in proselytizing in the ranks of the U. S. Army.

Mother of Triangle Wife Aids Sikora

CHICAGO, Oct. 20—Rudolph Sikora's mother-in-law testified today he had feared that his attractive wife and his love rival were conspiring to kill him.

Resuming her witness stand today at Sikora's trial on charges of murdering Edward Solomon, Mrs. Elizabeth Boehme aid Sikora came to her home last August 19—three days before the slaying—and confessed he was afraid to put his car in the garage "because they might have me bumped off."

"I asked who he meant," the Rudolph Sikora stout mother-in-law continued. "He said, 'Why Margaret and Solomon, I'm in their way, you know.'"

RIE EMPHASIZED
That statement concluded her direct testimony as a defense witness—a role that pitted her against her comely daughter, Margaret, who testified for the prosecution yesterday before a jury qualified to send her "model husband" to the electric chair.

Cross-examination by Prosecutor Curtis emphasized the definite split between the mother and daughter. "Did you think Margaret was crazy?"

"I thought maybe she was because of the way she was acting," Mrs. Boehme replied. "You succeeded in getting Margaret discharged?"

"Yes," the witness said.

HUSBAND "MENTALLY ILL"
This reference was to the time Margaret lost her position as a secretary for an accounting firm where she worked with Solomon.

During the period last summer when Solomon wooed and won 22-year-old Mrs. Sikora, her husband was "mentally ill," Mrs. Boehme testified.

Murder trial spectators, most of them women, jammed the courtroom yesterday to glimpse the unusual drama of a mother supporting the marital conduct of her son.

Judge George C. Sweeney deferred sentencing Po, at the request of his counsel, until Tuesday. A total of 2200 grains of opium allegedly in Po's room were seized.

The man he named is Erich Glaser, army private formerly stationed at Mitchell Field, Glaser, with Johanna Hoffman and Otto Voss, is charged with implication in an espionage plot so brah that it envisaged counterfeiting of White House stationery and the forging of President Roosevelt's signature to requests for information on plans of U. S. navy aircraft carriers.

A State Department investigation into the alleged rifling of sealed U. S. mail bags on German transatlantic liners was forecast here.

The mail bag looting was disclosed by Rumrich.

STATE DEPARTMENT HINT

With indications that international complications affecting U. S. mail contracts might result, postal officials here said such a serious question as tampering with sealed mail bags on a foreign-owned ship would have to be referred to the State Department.

Rumrich testified that Karl Schlueter, a fugitive indicted as a co-conspirator, formerly employed on the North German Lloyd liner Europa, boasted that he ripped open a mail bag on the Europa, steamed open a letter and made a photographic copy.

As the trial opened the court discharged the $2500 bail of Captain Franz Friske of the freighter Hindenburg, who was an incident figure in the claimed spy plot.

TELLS OF LETTERS

Rumrich, an army deserter who has pleaded guilty to the spy indictment, testified today that Glaser wrote letters to soldiers of German-American extraction and supplied him with two names—"Zimmerman," in the Panama Canal Zone, and "Gus Schmidt," on the West Coast. Rumrich said that Glaser sent to Schmidt a letter written by Rumrich.

A letter which Rumrich testified Glaser said he wrote to Gus was introduced. The massive invited Schmidt to contact Glaser, inquired whether Gus had "any girls you don't need" and pressed Schmidt for an early answer because "I have some very, very interesting things to tell you."

There was, too, an inquiry as

Schooners Becalmed, Race Off

ABOARD COAST GUARD CUTTER CHELAN, off Gloucester, Oct. 20 (INS)—Two schooners on a glassy sea this afternoon gave up attempts to run the third race of the International Fishermen's series when the wind dropped to zero. It was the seventh unsuccessful try.

With the Gloucester schooner Gertrude L. Thebaud leading Canadian Bluenose by nearly a mile at the end of the first round of the 18-mile twice-around triangle course, both vessels were practically motionless as they tried to make the re-run of the first six-mile leg.

They had been out four and one-half hours and had not made 3 miles. With only an hour and a half left under the time limit, a finish was impossible.

Finally, a motor tender from the committee boat ran alongside the Bluenose. Then the Canadian ship veered off the course and dropped her topsails. The Yankee schooner did the same after the motor tender had run alongside her.

Stocks Stage Comeback

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Selective buying gave the stock market a recovery tinge today and weak issues of the preceding session came back fractions to $1 a share or so.

The going was a little difficult in the forenoon. Support eventually was accorded steels, motors, coppers, utilities, rails and specialties.

Mrs. Nugent Lacks Smile in Jail Cell

Mrs. Ione F. Nugent was distinctly uncomfortable and out of sorts today as she arose from her cot in a cell in Dedham jail.

Nor did she think much of the breakfast offered her. It was nothing like what she had been accustomed to in her hotel suite on Beacon Hill.

The dashing New York widow, who had been prosecuting a $50,000 breach of contract suit against Philip Loring Reed in Dedham district court, was committed by order of Judge E. Dwight Fullerton, who heard the case, on a charge of presumption of perjury. Last night she made efforts to get bail, and failed. Her attorney expected to find bail today.

In ordering her committed, Judge Fullerton said he could not ignore startling differences in testimony and could not believe her story. She had alleged Reed employed her as a sort of business spy to find out things about other concerns and that he had failed to pay her $50,000.

A transcript of the evidence in the contract case will be presented to District Attorney Edmund R. Dewing so that he may be prepared to proceed against Mrs. Nugent before the Norfolk grand jury.

Mother Taken From Iron Lung for Birth, Baby Dies

FORT WILLIAM, Ont., Oct. 20 (INS)—Stricken with infantile paralysis and placed in an iron lung seven weeks ago, a girl mother fought for her life at the Isolation Hospital here today after giving birth to a baby girl in one of the most unusual obstetrical cases on record.

The young mother, 37-year-old Mrs. Halja Saarikoski, was removed from the respirator, in which she had been confined since September 3, for five-minute periods as the birth progressed.

Finally the baby was born. It was a tiny girl, weighing only two pounds nine ounces.

Dr. G. C. Ferguson and Dr. A. C. Green, obstetrician, attended the girl.

Half a dozen times the girl was removed from the respirator, and each time oxygen was administered. Paralysis had affected her chest muscles, and to have remained outside the respirator for a longer time would have meant death by suffocation.

The baby was rushed to a Port Arthur hospital and placed in an incubator, but it died after living less than a day.

The birth of the baby, Dr. Ferguson said, did not affect the mother's condition, but she took a turn for the worse today when a cold which she contracted six days ago became worse and pulmonary congestion set in. Her condition today, he said, is "only fair."

Police First Aid Saves Life

Quick action of a Mattapan police officer saved the life of Clarence Richards, 33, today, after the latter had severed an artery in his wrist, falling against a glass door.

Patrolman John Walsh, racing to the scene in a radio-equipped "cruising" car, wrapped an improvised tourniquet about Richards' arm, stopping the bleeding.

The City Hospital, doctors said he would recover, but might have died except for Patrolman Walsh's first aid.

The accident happened in Richards' home in River street, Mattapan, when he stumbled over a threshold.

Irwin Now Plans To Foil Chair By Exploding

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—Robert Irwin has a new plan to beat the electric chair.

The young sculptor who goes on trial next week for the Easter Sunday slayings of "Ronnie" Gedson, her mother and a boarder, was frustrated in his first plan when jail guards refused to give him copper plates and wires. He had hoped to make himself immune to electricity by taking daily shocks through a light circuit in his cell, he said.

His new plan:
"I've got lots of energy. So what do I do? I store it up. Every day I bottle up more energy here inside me. Then when they put me in the chair I suddenly let go and explode into tiny little pieces like dust."

Graves Faces Wife's Suit

"Silent and sullen," Frederick H. Graves started serving his 18-month sentence for perjury on Deer Island this afternoon.

At almost the same hour that Graves was being received on the island, Corporation Counsel Henry Parkman, Jr., and Special Counsel Edward F. McClellan, for the city, filed a motion in Suffolk superior court seeking to set aside former Mayor James M. Curley's and Dr. Joseph Santomaso's appeals in the city's suit to recover the $40,000 Graves says he paid them to "fix" the General Equipment water-damage settlement.

It was for alleged perjury in this connection that Graves was tried, Judge Harold P. Williams yesterday returning a verdict of not guilty.

MORE TROUBLE LOOMS

Graves already had pleaded guilty, however, to perjury previously before the Bacon Finance Commission. For this, Judge Williams gave him the 18-month sentence.

"This case shows a miserable mess on both sides," Judge Williams said.

Meanwhile, today, in Braintree, more trouble was cooking up for Graves.

Mrs. Graves told a Boston Evening American reporter—

"I hate to make it any harder for him, BUT—"

She had just finished scrubbing the kitchen floor in her home on Middle street when the reporter called.

"Will you be going through, now, with your court action for non-support?" she was asked.

TO DEMAND SUPPORT

When Graves was here testifying in the Curley-Santomaso case, she sought to have a warrant served on him, but he left town one jump ahead of the officers. Today she said:

"Yes, I will. I hate to make it any harder for him, but he's got to support us. He's got to support his daughter—S. M., that is, you understand, she's in high school."

"Graves testified at his trial," Mrs. Graves was reminded, "that he got $15,000 as his 'commission' in the General Equipment settlement, and that he deposited it to your account in the Braintree National Bank. Did you get that money?"

"I haven't seen him in five years."

"Yes," the reporter said, "that was in 1933. That was five years ago. He said he deposited the $15,000 to your account. Didn't you get it?"

Mrs. Graves said firmly:

"We'll not go into that."

Up until "about five years ago," she declared, Graves was "a very good husband." But about five years ago, she asserted, he "changed."

"I don't know whether the People he kept company with got him into trouble or whether he got himself into trouble," she said. "It's too bad. Eighteen months is a long time for a man his age. It's too bad, BUT—"

FIGHT APPEAL

Graves was taken from Charles street jail down to the waiting city steamship, Michael J. Perkins, in a prison van along with a convicted dope user, a convicted drunk and a man convicted of attacking young girls. He was "silent and sullen" before leaving the jail, attaches said.

In Suffolk superior court, Parkman and McClellan's motion was filed. The city won its suit against Curley and Santomaso for the money Graves testified he paid them, but Curley and Santomaso have obtained permission to appeal.

This permission, Parkman's and McClellan's motion today argues, was improperly granted. They contend the statute says no more than five days may elapse before intention to appeal is filed, and that the court had no right to grant Curley and Santomaso permission to appeal after the five-day period had elapsed.

Television Next Year, Says Sarnoff

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (INS)—Limited television program service to the general public was announced today by David Sarnoff, president of the Radio Corporation of America.

Sarnoff said that the National Broadcasting Company contemplated that by the time the Worlds Fair opens it will be on the air with television programs for at least two hours a week.

Boudoir Thief Misses Gifts

Pretty Ruth Morrissey, 18, of Armory street, Roxbury, is a firm believer in "lovers' luck."

As basis for her faith, she was showing friends today several gifts from her fiancé which a sneak thief overlooked when he entered her boudoir and stole a purse, containing two dollars.

The present included a watch, bracelet and locket valued at $150. Robert McCauley, 22, living at the same address, saw the "boudoir bandit" leave the bedroom and gave chase. He lost trace of the intruder in the darkness of neighboring back yards.

China Defense Stiffens as Japs Near Canton

HONGKONG, Oct. 20 (AP)—Evading a major engagement by circling strong Chinese defenses, Japanese forces advanced today to within 20 miles of Canton from the northeast, semi-official Japanese sources reported.

They said another column had reached within about 50 miles of South China's chief city from the east.

In the past eight days, the rapidly advancing mechanized invaders have covered about two-thirds of the distance to Canton from their coastal take-off points without formidable resistance.

But there were mounting indications now that the Chinese defense at last was asserting itself. Chinese troops left in the rear of the quick-moving Japanese lines also were said to be menacing communications.

Chinese officials at Canton cancelled plans to leave the city. There was no sign of panic although the raising of barricades and digging of trenches indicated street fighting was anticipated.

Japanese said their vanguard had progressed to within 18 miles of Canton from Teenshin and that a second force was approaching Shengkung, important railroad city on the Kowloon-Canton line 50 miles east of Canton.

Sen. Reynolds Attacks: War Invitation By Churchill

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN
Special to Boston Evening American

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—The resentment in Congress against the radio broadcast of Winston Churchill, inviting American cooperation against the totalitarian states, was typified today in an attack on this latest manifestation of British propaganda, by Senator Robert R. Reynolds, of North Carolina.

He declared that the English politician has a consummate nerve to try to entice the American people into an alignment to save Great Britain and France, at any time they might require aid.

He had travelled in every state in the union, and was convinced, he said in an interview, that the people of the United States would be 100 per cent against any such entanglements.

Senator Reynolds words are especially significant in view of the fact that he will probably be the choice of the Democratic majority for the vacancy on the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, which will be created in January in consequence of the defeat for re-nomination of Senator James P. Pope, of Idaho.

"WORLD WAR INVITE"

"Mr. Churchill," said Senator Reynolds, "has in effect invited the American people to join in a world war."

"When I heard that on the radio, I was reminded of the fact that on April 8, 1917, we declared war, after three years of propaganda from Europe, for the purpose of maintaining democracy, and ending war for all time."

"That expectation has not been met, and within the past three years more than 3,000,000 people have been killed."

"In my opinion, this appeal of Winston Churchill was not primarily a result of the recent Munich negotiations, but is attributable to the encroachments of the Japanese in the immediate neighborhood of French and British possessions and investments in China."

"As the Japanese continue their invasion, they get in where the French and British have the most investments, and as a result Mr. Churchill was not only desirous of our joining Great Britain and France in protecting them in Europe, but was also endeavoring to flatter us into interesting ourselves on the continent of Asia."

"Regarding Europe, everybody knows Great Britain did not want to fight now for a number of reasons, including the fact that Gibraltar itself has been endangered by the recent rebel conquest of Spain."

"Therefore, Mr. Winston Churchill raises his voice to a height to carry across the Atlantic to 135,000,000 people, asking them to save the British empire."

"France is wrecked, and is on the verge of going Communist."

"I know the American people. They are 100 per cent against the United States becoming entangled in foreign affairs or in any international situations that might involve us in war."

"The time has come when it would be well to have a re-education of the Monroe Doctrine, to confine our activities to the Eastern Hemisphere."

6 Czechs Slain In Sudetenland

PRAGUE, Oct. 20 (AP)—The general staff reported today six persons were killed during disorders provoked yesterday by Sudeten Germans in two separated districts.

It said four persons died during rifle attacks by Sudeten German Free Corps members on a Czech military patrol at Zelenovice in northern Bohemia.

A communique said the mayor of Zelenovice became the fifth victim when he was killed after the battle was over.

The sixth person reported killed was a farmer in the Commune of Vozacka. The general staff announced he was working in his fields when a German soldier fired on him.

France Orders 200 U. S. Planes

(Copyright, 1938)

PARIS, Oct. 20 (INS)—France is remodeling her air force around newly created squadrons of American-made fighting planes in a move that closely follows the lead of Great Britain. It was learned exclusively today.

America's air supremacy was recognized by another world power when France placed an order with the factory producing United States Army Air Corps planes for 200 of the best single-seat pursuit planes in the world—actual sister ships of those being flown by the American army daily.

Delivery will be as fast as production schedules permit.

Charges Lewis Influenced by Communists

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—James Mitchell of Detroit, formerly in charge of welfare activities of a local union of the United Automobile Workers, a CIO affiliate, told House investigators today that Communists apparently "have a lot of influence on" John L. Lewis. Testifying before a committee investigating un-American activities, he said Communists had "engineered" a sit-down strike in the Murray body plant in Detroit in 1936 and 1937. Chairman Dies asked him what efforts were made by responsible labor leaders to rid the UAW of Communists.

REDS ON INSIDE

"Homer" Martin, president of the UAW, Mitchell said, "tried everything in his power. But it seems they are on the inside of the international union. Apparently they have a lot of influence on Mr. Lewis."

The witness said later that Communists could control the forthcoming CIO convention at Pittsburgh, "as well as the chairman of the CIO." Lewis is the chairman.

Rising to his feet, Mitchell shook out a red flag bearing the words "Communist Party" in gold letters. He said he had found it in the desk of Lloyd Jones, president of UAW Local No. 2, in the Murray plant. He said Jones told him to "keep my damn hands off of it." Previous witnesses have told the committee Jones is a Communist and was a former member of the UAW executive board.

RULE OR RUIN PLAN

He said Julia Buchanan, whom he said was a Communist, told him she would kill him if he ever disclosed anything about Jones. Earlier, the committee had heard that the Communists try first to control a union and, if that fails, to destroy it.

The "rule or ruin" testimony came from Melvin Kells of Detroit, who said he worked with an Americanization committee of the American Legion in uncovering subversive activities.

"They wanted to create a struggle among workers and to sell the union out," he added, explaining that "they" were leaders of a trade union league in the Michigan auto manufacturing area.

Break Windows In Medford 'War'

Window-smashers broke seven plate glass windows on Main street, near Harvard street, South Medford, early today in what police said was an outburst they attributed to Medford's liquor "war."

The question of whether bars and taverns are to be allowed in Medford comes up on the ballot next month. Meanwhile, occasioning considerable resentment in some quarters, package stores only are permitted in the town.

Damage done by the window smashers early today was estimated at $1500.

Council Spurns $19,000,000 Housing Funds

City councillors of Boston were busy today explaining to their constituents why they voted yesterday to table an offer of $19,000,000 in federal funds for housing projects in the city.

The vote against the motion to accept the offer was 11 to 9.

Those against the measure, and in favor of tabling, were Councilors Agnew, Carey, Chase, Engdort, Fish, Fitzgerald, Lyons, Murray, Rosenberg, Shattuck and Wilson.

Party lines were cut, as the members against shelving the proposition included Councilors Galvin, Harris, Kerrigan, Hutchinson, Irwin, Kelly, Norton, Sullivan and Taylor.

End Eucharist Meeting Today

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 20 (AP)—An estimated 80,000 persons awaited today the signal starting them in a solemn, two-mile procession, marking the close of the eighth National Eucharistic Congress.

Plans called for formation of the procession on broad Canal street late in the afternoon, followed by movement to the football stadium in City Park for the benediction, with George Cardinal Mundelein of Chicago, Papal legate, as celebrant.

Earlier today came the solemn pontifical mass for women at City Park with the Most Rev. Amleto G. Cicognani, D. D., archbishop of Laodicea and apostolic delegate to the United States, as celebrant.

SERMON BY ARCHBISHOP

The sermon, "The Holy Eucharist in a Christian Democracy," was prepared by the Most Rev. Samuel A. Stritch, D. C., archbishop of Milwaukee.

"Nothing confounds good men today in their efforts to bring about social peace and happiness in justice and brotherliness more than the lack of a practical recognition of the principles of true basic social unity," said Archbishop Stritch.

"It is social unity and not mere national or group unity which is sorely needed today as the postulate for a solution of our problems and relief of our distress. You cannot bring about social unity by the substitution of the mind and will of one man, however gifted, clever and adroit he may be, for the mind and will of society."

CHURCH IS SOCIAL PLAN

"Half-truths, theories, hypotheses, estimates, expediences and misinterpreted or faulty statistics are taken for social facts. On the basis of such assumptions, strange social measures are advocated and social unity promoted."

"Man was made a sharer in divine life and, through the action of the Holy Ghost, even in creation was marvellously united to the Heavenly Father in the person of the Son of God."

"The church is His plan of social unity. In it, nations and groups and families and individuals can find the true social unity."

Hundreds of masses were said throughout the city during the morning by visiting priests and hierarchy.

Writ Delays Strachey Ouster

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Federal Judge Edward A. Coughlin today signed a writ of habeas corpus requiring the production in court before him Tuesday of Evelyn John St. L. Strachey, English writer and lecturer, who has been ordered excluded from the United States on the ground that he is a Communist.

Connolly Wins High Praise for Tolerance Plea

CHICAGO, Oct. 20—The stirring plea for worldwide tolerance voiced Tuesday before the eighth national Eucharistic Congress at New Orleans, by Joseph V. Connolly, general manager of the Hearst newspapers, today evoked enthusiastic response from the non-sectarian league for Americanism, with headquarters in Chicago.

A telegram of hearty congratulations for his "frank and outspoken" address was dispatched to Mr. Connolly by officials of the league, headed by Brigadier General John V. Clinin, retired. It read:

"Congratulations on the splendid address delivered yesterday at the Eucharistic Congress in New Orleans."

"You have expressed the sentiment and objectives of this organization which we represent. We are passing through a period of trial and sacrifice involving changes in our ideologies. In resisting the great fundamental truths which we heartily subscribe to, you have struck a body blow at intolerance and prejudice."

Amplifying the telegram, General Clinin said:

"We believe that Mr. Connolly expressed the real belief in tolerance that is in the soul of a majority of the American people. No group of people, whether American or foreign-born, can set itself up in defiance of God, who made all mankind."

"Who are we, as mortals, to question the infinite wisdom of the Supreme Being? Mr. Connolly, in my judgment, and in the judgment of our organization, expressed the real spirit of the broadminded American, which is that of a majority of our people."

Signers of the telegram in addition to General Clinin were W. F. Clarke, dean of law at Loyola University, vice-president; and Samuel F. Jacobson, attorney, with offices at 130 S. Dearborn street, secretary. League membership includes Dr. Preston Bradley, Judge James McGorty, Col. Nicholas J. Burlinger, former president of the Germania Club; Col. Harold G. Sperling, Louis T. Shapiro, Stanley T. Pulaski, S. G. Robbins and Al Durante.

New Rapid Transit Line Urged in Bill

A rapid transit route from North Station through Somerville and into Arlington along the tracks of the Boston and Maine railroad was proposed by Senator Eugene H. Giroux in a bill filed by him today. The route would go from the present Elevated at the North Station over the Craigie Bridge to Lechmere square and then along the line of the Boston & Maine through Davis square into North Cambridge and along the tracks of the B. & M. Lexington branch into Arlington.

BROOKTON WALTHAM FRAMINGHAM BOSTON LYNN QUINCY CAMBRIDGE

PITTSFIELD, Oct. 20—Protection of the mill industry, complete flood control and proper compensation for workers who are injured were among a variety of promises left by former Governor James M. Curley today on the first leg of his whirlwind tour through Western Massachusetts.

By ALFRED D. WHELTON

At Fall River in this city, Adams, North Adams and Williamstown, the democratic nominee for a second term as chief executive, also blasted the legislative record of Leverett Saltonstall, his Republican rival, as well as the G. O. P. in general.

"Evolution of goods that are made in Japan and other foreign countries, where the pay of labor for a full week is equivalent to the pay of labor here for one day, is the best means of solving a good part of our unemployment problem," Curley said.

"As governor, I intend to start the ball rolling toward the exclusion of such merchandise. I feel that it will take more than $500,000 off the nation's welfare rolls and return them to private industry."

WITH REPUBLICANS

He charged that the Republican party could have accomplished some such steps through its control of the legislature for 10 years or more, but the leaders, he said, were either "asleep at the switch" or did not want to do anything for the working man.

"We, the Democratic party, have ended the sniping of industry here after it had departed without the Republican party lifting a hand to prevent it."

"We not only have halted the sniping but have already begun to open the way for its restoration."

In his blast against Saltonstall, Curley charged that he was one of a group of Republicans who had blocked payment of proper compensation to those disabled and stated that no steps were taken for correction of the condition until he was elected governor in 1935.

"I had to threaten to personally go into the districts of those who would dare vote against these humane measures and expose them so heartless and unthinking creatures before I could get enough votes to pass the bills. I finally got the improvements in 72 hours."

COOKS TOWNSEND PLANK

Again Curley scored the Townsend plank, adopted by the Republican party at its recent convention in Boston as "disgraceful, spurious and deliberately deceptive."

Of his own plan to reduce the life limit of old age assistance from 65 to 60 years and increase monthly allotments from $30 to $50, Curley estimated the cost at $400,000 annually.

On his tour, Curley was reinforced by the entire Democratic state ticket, including James H. Brennan for lieutenant governor, Attorney General Paul A. Dwyer, Mr. Katherine Foley for secretary of state, State Auditor Thomas H. Buckley and Owen Gallagher, candidate for treasurer.

The tour today continued into Leitch with a meeting at the town hall and afternoon stop at West Stockbridge, Housatonic, Great Barrington, Lee, Chester and Huntington.

The program tonight includes rallies at Westfield, Chicopee, Holyoke and Springfield with an hour broadcast arranged for the Classical High School rally in Springfield.

Priest Breaks Fast, Will Move to N. H.

PALMERTON, Pa., Oct. 20 (AP)—By order of his archbishop, the Rev. Lazar Kirichenko has ended today fast, and will transfer his domicile, New Hampshire. He last announced he would fast until the young people of his parish received the church.

The Most Rev. Thompson, archbishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of Philadelphia, announced that the Rev. Kirichenko had ended his fast.

Saltonstall III Again, Cancels Today's Rallies

Leverett Saltonstall, Republican candidate for governor, at first the week was ordered back to today by his physician.

Saltonstall, despite a bad cold that had kept him at home, insisted upon appearing last night at rallies at the Women's Republican Club, East Boston, and in Milton and Braintree.

He was to speak today and tonight at a number of other rallies, but his physicians orders were to cancel all engagements.

Labor and industry alike would share the benefits of a Republican administration. Saltonstall told his hearers at last night's meetings.

At a meeting in Repulitzer state committee headquarters, Essex street, Republican candidate spoke to 500 WPA workers, who pledged their support in the state election.

"The Republican legislature and myself as Speaker of the House are entitled as much as anyone else for the sentiment which William Green, president of the AFL, made when he said, 'Massachusetts has become the laboratory for liberal, progressive legislation,'" declared Saltonstall.

"With my active support and appointments of well known labor men to labor committee chairmanship while Speaker, many laws of direct and lasting benefit to the citizens of the Commonwealth were passed."

Girl, 22, Beaten; Suspect Held

WORCESTER, Oct. 20 (AP)—Over the head with a brass knuck until she was knocked unconscious, a pretty 22-year-old girl was in critical condition at Worcester City Hospital today—her birthday.

Meanwhile, Worcester police were holding a Negro who was arrested a short distance from the assault scene. He had bloodstains on his sweater.

The victim, Lucille Goulets, was about to enter a house in Lodge street, according to police, when she was hit over the head several times with a heavy rock.

Man Breaks Leg on Quincy Storm Job

Two Quincy police stretchers gained a belated business experience today when they carried an injured man 300 yards out of Saxon Park in that city.

Edward Gironimo, 47, Canal street, Quincy, suffered a fractured leg while engaged in storm reclamation work in the park.

The Quincy officers carried him over fallen trees and gale debris before they reached the ambulance.

Nurse Registry Probe Started

Investigation of 25 nurses' registration throughout the state was under way today by a special commission appointed by the Legislature, following complaints made by Assistant Attorney-General Maurice M. Goldman.

At a hearing yesterday in the State House General Goldman demanded the commission recommend in its report the closing of these registries because of their alleged activities in multiting nurses through false registry fees.

Withholding the names of the registries, Goldman handed the list to the commission with a report on complaints received by the attorney-general's office.

PWA 'Macing' Called Reign of Terror in Pa.

Take Politics Out of Relief.

Citizens, before you vote, ask these questions of all candidates for Congress:

"Do you stand for the principle that there must be no political control or influence in the handling of relief funds, pump-priming money, agricultural benefit money or social security money?

"Do you favor the principle of having all such public expenditures supervised by a non-partisan, non-political board employing civil service personnel?

"Do you pledge yourself to work for the proper measures to put these principles into practical operation?"

By GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN
Special to Boston Evening American

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—It is difficult to tell whether the use of federal relief money for political aggrandizement in behalf of the Democratic party in Pennsylvania has been reduced to an art or a science.

Investigation of conditions in that state, where political bossism has flourished since before the Civil War, and has been reflected in both major parties, is proving one of the most interesting undertakings of the Sheppard campaign contributions committee.

Investigators sent into the state to get at the truth of charges made by Senator James J. Davis, and others, have not yet completed their work.

The Sheppard case is the latest in a series of investigations of the use of relief money in an election year, and the clearing of the way for the Democrats to get back into the White House.

The Pennsylvania case is the latest in a series of investigations of the use of relief money in an election year, and the clearing of the way for the Democrats to get back into the White House.

LAW SEEN ONLY HOPE

Members of the Senate Judiciary committee, who are investigating the use of relief money in an election year, are seen only hope that the law will be enforced.

Packard Plans Double Shift

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20.—(AP)—William Packard, general manager of the Packard Motor Car Company, said today that sales dropped and the company produced all the cars it can on a double shift of workmen, and that it was going to meet increased demand.

"We have recovered from the slump of 1937," he said. "Business is about the same as when we hit that drop, but the trend is up instead of down."

Special to Boston Evening American

NEW YORK, Oct. 20.—Business and financial leaders throughout the United States continue to express approval of recommendations made by the Hearst newspapers for telling the American people in the vivid language of simple arithmetic the truth concerning corporate activities.

Specific ways and means of communicating about economic affairs with the lay public through a new language of streamlined accounting were set forth in two hearings yesterday by Messrs. Stanley Rukeyser, an economic commentator for the Hearst newspapers, and John D. Williams, a prominent Boston banker, in an understanding of the social and economic conditions created by modern industry.

In a series of 120 changes, top men of industry and finance have laid the dead and felt in these pamphlets entitled "Streamlined Financial Statements," Mr. Williams said. "I will say," he said, "that the business as well as the public as a whole, methods for presenting and developing the American system of free enterprise."

Mr. Rukeyser, who demonstrated the latest significance of these new financial statements for the public, said that the public is now in a position to understand the financial statements of the business as a whole.

Timothy W. B. will address members of the municipal board of education at the Municipal Board of Education at the New Approach to Economic Problems.

1. The first step is to identify the problem. This involves understanding the current situation and what needs to be changed. It is important to involve all stakeholders in this process.

WELCOME BOMBARDMENT!

The Editor Says:—Reports of aerial bombings are making headlines in many countries, but only Uncle Sam can SMILE.

In this peaceful country, it is the welcome bombardment of a wholesome and thrilling sport for the entertainment of millions. Elsewhere, it is useless and wanton destruction, with the inhumanities of war falling most heavily upon women and children. Americans, able to smile and play, should not forget that the American system of democratic government MAKES IT POSSIBLE.

Let Americans resolve to KEEP IT SECURE!

BIENNIAL SESSIONS for the Massachusetts Legislature, one of the most important questions in the Commonwealth's history will be considered by those who vote in the November 3 election.

The referendum neither casts doubt on the value of the Legislature as an institution nor proposes changes in its powers, membership or composition.

The referendum simply asks CAN OUR ELECTED LAW MAKERS ACCOMPLISH ALL NECESSARY LEGISLATIVE WORK BY HOLDING REGULAR SESSIONS EVERY OTHER YEAR RATHER THAN EVERY YEAR?

To this question thousands will answer "YES."

Those answers will be guided by the experience of forty-two of the forty-eight States which have found biennial sessions the key to sound and intelligent economy, and by the knowledge that the change will mean an annual saving to our taxpayers of at least FOUR HUNDRED THOUSAND DOLLARS.

NEW ENGLAND GIRLS avoid Hollywood, according to Larry Prinz, famous authority on feminine beauty. He asks: "Is it the Yankee conscience or is it because there are no good looking girls in that part of the country?"

Mr. Prinz is either misinformed or merely talking through his teeth. These new roles women are wearing. Environment, good clothes, and the life they are living have made the average young woman in New England more attractive than her sister in any other part of North America.

By the way has not Mr. Prinz heard of Newton's Bette Davis? A New Englander, she seems to be doing rather well in Hollywood. Our suggestion is that Mr. Prinz come to Boston on Monday, October 23, and gaze Boston Garden where thousands of Boston and New England girls will bear the bands of Rudy Vallee and Benny Goodman, playing for the Boston Evening American-Punch-Advertiser Christmas Basket Fund.

Seeing is believing—particularly so when beauty is concerned.

GENERAL REGRET attends the resignation of Roxbury Court Judge Albert F. Hayden, retiring at 73 after a quarter-century of brilliant service on the bench.

Judge Hayden is a lifelong champion of justice, a never-compromising enemy of violence.

Long remembered will be the fearlessness with which he punished Communist notoriety, even when his home was bombed and his life endangered.

Massachusetts cannot have too many justices of the Judge Hayden mold.

CHEERFUL NEWS indeed is the General Motors Corporation's announcement that thirty-five thousand men will be RESTORED to payrolls and that a ten per cent increase will be granted salaried employees receiving less than $300 a month.

Here is a SOUND AND PRACTICAL back-to-work program. It is recovery in the AMERICAN WAY.

The Human Side of the News

Sculptor Swann's Unique Task

By EDWIN C. HILL

FORGOTTEN 1918 King, Madison Ave., Dr. MY FRIEND Lucille Swann, New York sculptor, who posed out the Peking woman for anthropologists in China, returned the other day. She gave me an interesting account of her unique assignment, bridging perhaps 100,000 years in providing fleshy contours for another daughter of Eve, who had become extremely important to the scientific world.

There were available part of the skull and the bones of one side of the face. Miss Swann built up the bony structure of the other side, and supplied a full complement of features under the scientific guidance of Dr. Franz Weidenreich, German anatomist, one of the most famous in the world. Fortunately, they found a thigh bone which indicated the stature of the cave woman as about that of the rather small dwellers in South China today.

There was excitement among anthropologists everywhere when the late Dr. Davidson Black identified the skull of the Peking woman who had been discovered by a young Chinese named Tai. The skull is older than that of the Neanderthal Man and believed to be the oldest yet found. It is also the first full half section of skull and facial bones, this, of course being quite as good for the scientists as a complete skull.

"I WAS INTERESTED to see how science and sculpture mixed in

MOTHER EARTH'S FIRST SONS

An Scientist Believe They Looked

agreement in reconstructing the features," said Miss Swann. "Some knowledge of anatomy is presumed on the part of a sculptor. Our customary experience is to search out the anatomy of a living person from his usual aspect. The reverse process was novel and to me quite engrossing."

"The teeth, rather small and somewhat worn down, seemed to call for a wide mouth and thin lips, of an anthropoid suggestiveness. We devised a small nose, with slightly furrowed nostrils slightly mongrel, and the eyes just came out naturally as perhaps more ape-like than human. The chin was almost missing, there was over the eyes a heavy ridge like that of the Neanderthal Man, the forehead was low, and we agreed on a low hair-line."

"There was definitely the man-girled ridge, longhouse on the skull a peculiarity which I had observed in its most exaggerated form in doing a portrait bust of a known member of the high. Buddhist priesthood. It is difficult to explain, but somehow my very features seemed to feel that here was definitely a transition type in the emergence of man."

The research and reconstruction work on the Peking woman were done in the Geology Laboratory at Peking, maintained by the Rockefeller Foundation. The caves from which the skull came are at Chou Kou Tien, about 40 miles from Peking.

I ASKED Miss Swann whether the Chinese were especially insistent on finding tiger bones, to grind into fighting powder.

"Yes," she said, "ever since the war started paleontologists have had a problem in the new demand for bones, of almost any kind. The supposition that they might be the bones of a tiger or of some other ferocious creature puts them in great demand, and the scientists had to work greatly intensified with

Wise Old Uncle Sam Arms for Peace

By DAMON RUNYON

(Copyright 1933 by King Features Syndicate, Inc. Tribune and Chicago and other rights reserved.)

ONE THING that Czechoslovakia business did, it threw a terrific scare into nearly all the pacifists in this country and now you never hear of a peep out of them about old Uncle Sam heeling himself. The only fellow who is kicking in Hitler, and it was his beef that switched the last few hesitant votes over to the side of the customers in favor of loading up.

Of course we have long been a sort of a nut on preparedness and naturally we are glad to at last find ourselves in so much good company.

Almost everybody, including President Roosevelt, has now declared in favor of a big program of preparedness and we hope that the feeling of unrest and fear that has been in the air in this country lately continues long enough for the program to get well under way. If that feeling abates, the customers will soon be lulled into a sense of security again, and some of them will be saying:

"Come, come! We do not need all that costly war truck now, so let us put those plans away and forget them. Nobody is going to bother us."

WELL, we do not think anybody is going to bother us, at that, but we have always contended that there is less chance of anybody bothering a chap when he is known to be carrying a pair of brass knuckles in each side pocket of his coat and a pistol on his hip.

Nobody wanted any truck with old Uncle Sam after the Mexican War.

Then there were the early twenties, when Old Sam had about the greatest fleet on the face of the waters, and 4,000,000 men trained to fight, and that was when they ropes started eagerly talking about disarming.

RIGHT NOW is about the first time in our history that Sam has made up his mind to arm.

Once fully armed again, Sam should forever remain armed. It is our contention that the United States should be the only nation in the world permitted arms, by agreement of the others, to act as a sort of world policeman with the other nations contributing to the support of the cop, because this is the only nation that wants nothing from the rest of the world except peace.

We favor a big army. If you ask us how big, we must fall back on William Randolph Hearst's comment to one of his editors who reported to a chiding because he had not made a picture in his paper big, that he had thought it was too big as it was.

"When you think a picture is too big," said Mr. Hearst, who loves big pictures in his papers, "make it bigger."

That is the way we feel about our Army. When it seems too big, it ought to be made bigger. We think it would be an excellent investment for the United States to outfit forthwith a paid Army of not less than 1,000,000 men and establish them in camps of about 50,000 each in various parts of the country.

'Bugs' Baer Says:

WE DON'T recognize the names of apples any more. In our neighborhood autumn meant that the Rusty Coat and the Sheep's Nose were loose along the fences.

LONG about September and October we foraged on the edges of the orchards after the windfalls. But we never heard of a McIntosh, a Cortland, a Delicious or a Starking. We knew about the Helldowns and the Greenings. But they were imports.

THERE isn't anything that will sting a boy's tail-ights more than rock-salt at twilight. The fascists in Montgomery county and their anti-aircraft munitions about two feet off the ground and the impact would make you jump higher than a Swiss echo.

BOYHOOD seems to have changed a lot more than I've questioned kids and all they seem to know is from the Loose Ranger. Well, what chance has a boy got in an age when everything is in Cellophane?

WE AREN'T trying to turn back time. We may be an old crankpot, but we are too smart for that. We know if we turn back the clock there will still be a cuckoo in it.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

YOU'D LIKE to go to work on things with your life, wouldn't you? And you wonder why you can't? You're sufficiently right you work as hard as the next one... you both know and like your job. Yet, year after year, you stick in the same old rut while all around you others shoot ahead. WHY? What's wrong? WHAT HAS THE OTHER FELLOW GOT THAT YOU HAVEN'T? YOU'D BE SURPRISED!

A great scientist—Dr. Albert E. Wiggam, asked himself this same question recently, thinking of you and millions like you. Said to himself, "What one asset above all others, is most valuable to a worker, any kind of a worker, from a $20-per-week to a $20,000-per-week?" He answered: "Intelligence, equal knowledge and opportunity, what one quality determines that worker's failure or success?"

DR. WIGGAM found an answer to his question in a survey made by the famous psychologist Doctor Wells, who had taken several hundred representative executives, all of whom had about the same education and general opportunity. These men he divided into two groups. The first group received about $1800 yearly for their work; the second group from $5400 up.

"What," said he, "made the difference?" And then proceeded to analyze every detail of their characters and careers.

Recently, at the dedication of a new engineering building at Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pa., he broadcast his findings.

WHAT WAS THE SECRET OF ONE MAN'S FAILURE? THE REASON FOR ANOTHER MAN'S SUCCESS?

"Intelligence," he declared. "Training," he said. "Initiative." Now in these, both groups were equal. The first group, in the end, was as well equipped for the job as the second. . . . knew as much about the business as the second group. . . . worked as hard and as wisely. Put in one and only one respect they differed.

THE "UPPER BRACKET" EARNERS HAD IMAGINATION—THE OTHERS DIDN'T!

ONE GROUP, coming to their desks, saw only the facts before them. Saw rules . . . figures . . . designs . . . estimates . . . all the precepts and paraphernalia of the engineering trade . . . used them conscientiously, industriously . . . and received mediocre payment for a mediocre job.

The other group also saw the job awaiting them . . . also observed the requirements, used the equipment of their profession. But to this routine program they added that intangible yet invaluable asset which can never be defined by a rule or expressed with a tool—they added IMAGINATION. Rules and tools provided simply a basic platform—but IMAGINATION GAVE THEM WINGS. And with those wings they soared into new ideas, new worlds, that no technique could contact, no rules could reach.

Why did they receive $12,000 where their fellow-workers received only $187?

Because, by the use of imagination, they reached out, beyond the tangible and conventional forms of expression, into the chaos of unborn ideas. AND BECAME INSPIRED CREATORS.

And the others remained mere FOLLOWERS . . . Paraphrasing, conforming.

HUH? OH! YAH?
Miss Barbara Gerry, in Three Poses, Deplores and Demonstrates Meaningless Slang

Girl About Town

by Marjorie McBride

NATIVES, who take their Boston seriously, frequently become annoyed over the flagrant mispronunciation of commonplace names by visitors to the town, not to mention the unpardonable mistakes by persons who have lived here for years.

Not that they deny there are some very tricky names pronounced as they are because that's the way it's always been done, and for no other good reason.

Miss Barbara Gerry of Wakefield, director of classes in correct speech and voice culture, today furnishes the column with the proper Boston pronunciation of some such names often misheard.

In Copley, the o is pronounced as in cop, the second syllable is ler. It's not Copley or Copley. If you're really of the old school you'll speak of Devonshire street as if it were spelled Devonshier.

Bookseilers of Cornhill make it sound like Cawhill, without the r, which is correct. Scollay isn't Scollay . . . nor is Scollay. Miss Gerry thinks the "ol" should sound like the "ol" in "cloud."

Esplanade should be pronounced in these parts to make the last syllable rhyme with "cad." Guests at the Hotel Vendome always like to say the word as if it spelled Vendomeine.

DIARY OF A COLUMNIST'S FUP: Steve-Brain has no appetite and the Queen says, "Well, goodness, if you were younger and not bald, I would say it is love, but I think it is those cigarettes you smoke" and he says: "It is only because I have a great restlessness. I think I will get into the car and just go crosscountry for a change of scenery" and the Lady says: "Without me?" and he says moodily: "I may even go without me."

The Queen says: "That makes no sense" and he says dully: "There is no sense in anything these days" and she says: "What in Heaven's name has gotten into you?" and suddenly she stops short and begins giggling.

"Whiskey," she shouts to me, "Now I know. He hasn't been the same since he saw Hamlet last night. The poor little man thinks he's another Hamlet. He's a melancholy baby."

"I," snaps Sunk-Cheek, "will leave this house and never return."

FRIDAY: He is reading aloud. "He knows that his emotional life belongs to the public," he reads, "so that he may be seen in various environs, his adjectives poised, dreaming wistfully along Manhattan's midnight water-side, musing upon the Howery's sorry humanity, or sitting in the cigarette twilight of the town's dimmest wineries."

"O," sighs the Queen. "I should like very much to meet a marvelous man like that," and Sunk-Cheek, says snuggly: "You are Even people of Haverhill don't always seem to realize that the second h in the name is silent . . . and the residents of Woburn don't all say Woburn.

Boston is singularly free from slang. Miss Gerry insists, but she wishes there was more of a meaningful expression as "HUH? OH! YAH?"

Don't burn rubbish, unless you water it thoroughly. Don't save furnace paper. Don't use fireplaces without screens. . . . Don't run too hot fires in small stoves.

And don't forget to check while smoking or when handling electrical appliances.

living with him. John Anderson wrote that and it's about me and a very apt description I should say," whereupon the Queen slaps a hard over her mouth and leaves the room in a huff, and I can hear her laughing in the next room and Midge, the Canary, seems to be laughing with her.

SUNDAY: I have never seen him in such gentle mood and he is praising everything. "Never," he says, "in my born days have I seen such a performance like last night. That Raymond Massey was as if he had stepped right out of the picture frame. I never saw a more perfect Abraham Lincoln. I will go to see that play again and again," and the Queen says: "Mr. Harry Warner and to me during the second intermission that he would like very much to make a picture of the play just as it is—with Massey and the whole cast—and show it in every school from coast to coast—and night schools, too."

"This," says Soursup, heavily, "has been the theater's finest week with Robert Morley giving us his Oscar Wilde and Maurice Evans as Hamlet and now Massey as Abraham Lincoln. I am beginning to love the theater again."

DEAR DIARY I have never been to a theater. I wonder what it's like? It can't be very honest because I gather people are always being what they really aren't and pretending to be something else.

RUINOUS TAXES

By HUGH S. JOHNSON

WASHINGTON. Here, perhaps, is a few words, in the highest of the Third New Law.

The wealth and income are concentrated in a few hands. We propose to take it away and redistribute it. As long as we are not having and out of the system the system of so few such centers are not among the masses to destroy a democracy.

Redistribution requires centralization of political power to use taxation not merely for revenue, but for redistribution of wealth. Therefore, to the people we promise through taxation to save present wealth and means of production to those who have it.

There is no need for the corporate intent, such as the many corporations to the public. By the President? Yes, it is necessary imperative. By Mr. Hopkins? Far more directly. By Mr. Ickes? Openly.

But the "power to tax involves the power to destroy." What is proposed here is to destroy the instruments of production in the United States and to substitute for them—NOTHING—WHAT-EVER. That destroys the hope of every worker and individual of any reliance on his own effort.

AS FOR THE PRIVATE PROPERTY, the checkered public domain, it has been the report of the National Resources Committee, says that the owner 12,460,000 families and individuals had an income of $7.5 billion, while the top 2,500 families had an income of $8 billion, and omitted to state that the latter class pays almost all the direct taxes.

I have seen in this country several instances of the effect of taxation to prevent or destroy law, such as the private property, to create or to destroy of their own accord. In the history of the world, this is a new thing.

A new service company was formed, with the expenditure of $250,000 profit. It was almost impossible to find a private property owner able to take the risk, because excessive profits would be transferred to the government of whatever profit they made.

Finally this was done. It had to be quickly to the business of every state. The laws required of it $5 tax returns and 20 separate taxes. Here is what happened to the profits. State and other taxes took $26,041. Federal income taxes $47,500. Total tax, $116,764, or 41 per cent of its profits.

SUPPOSE as about happen to be exactly the case here, this capital had been put up by one of Mr. Ickes' 60 plutocrats in the State of New York. Of the remaining $146,000, according to the Twentieth Century Fund tax study, taxes would take from 8.6 per cent to 109.1 per cent, say 56 per cent—leaving the proprietor, out of $250,000 profit, $2840—less 97.7 per cent and remaining income 2.3 per cent.

If that 1931 Communist-type justice for use and distribution, what would it be? And if that justice is not back to new business, what is it? This Administration threatens to destroy this country through taxes.

THEY ARE 1933 BY THE WAY. Redistribute the income in the name of the people.

Junior League Delays Selecting Deb Members

8. BETTY ALDEN

THE ANNUAL social uncertainty is going to last longer than usual this year . . . for the officials of the Junior League will delay announcing the names of the girls who will be admitted to membership into the sacred confines until some time in November.

By this time each year every one usually knows just which debutantes have been given the nod and which ones have been left out in the cold . . . but this season's crop will have to make the best of sitting uncomfortably on the horns of the proverbial dilemma while the committee on admissions asks a few more questions and looks up a few more credentials . . .

The Vincent Club's fact-finding board, or so-called OGPU, has evidently been able to get to the bottom of things more rapidly . . . because those chosen for membership in that extremely exclusive and distinctly East-man girls' club have already received invitations to the annual luncheon early in November, which means that they are IN.

Fifth Successful Theater Benefit

THE BENEFIT COMMITTEE of the New England Hospital for Women and Children is anxious to place a record for successful maternity benefits. The performance of Leave It To Me, of the Summer last coming, when, for the first annual benefit, was an outstanding success, and we hope if even Beachman is anything to better such a record.

The night was the best performance of the season in Boston, the decision had all the earmarks of a brilliant first night—a heavy, dramatic, bold, passed-out program and an air of gravity pervaded.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson Turner, with the former's well-known sister, Corrie Turner, and the latter's son, W. Arthur Dwyer, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Clark Tinkande, Jr., dined with the Henry M. Barney Parkers. She is president of the V. members in a rooming were Mr. and Mrs. Attention Heckel in a lovely all-white costume topped by fox cape. Olivia Peters in dancing with the son, Wendell. Mr. and Mrs. Tally Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Fox with their daughter, Betty, and Harold J. Lyons. Safe.

Guests in the throng were Mrs. Winthrop Pyemont, who was indignantly dressed in a gown of pink chiffon with coral chiffon drapes from the shoulders, and long crystal earrings to match her attire.

Country Club Dance for Anne Pearmain

ANNE PEARMAIN, who interrupted her plans for an early October holiday by deciding to attend Bennington College, will be home from college on November 12 to make her curtsy to society at a dinner at The Country Club. Her mother, Mrs. Pierce Pearmain, will give a dinner for the ushers and a group of Anne's intimate friends at her home on Lousburg square. . . .

Due to the recent death of Colonel W. D. Sohler of Beacon street plans have been cancelled for the dinner dance at which his granddaughter, Edith Sohler Shaw, was to have made her debut on October 26 . . . Lillian Fernald, another deb of the season, was to have shared honors with Edith . . .

Captain and Mrs. Irving Johnson, who are well known in yachting circles here, have signed on another tiny passenger aboard their famous schooner, Yankee . . . He is Robert Parkin Johnson.

CONSTANCE ANN MacBRIDE
Makes Her Debut Monday

Mrs. Van Hatten Macfarlane will give a luncheon at the Elks Club on next Monday to present her daughter, Constance Ann. A graduate of Rosemary Hall School, where she majored in music, she is now a student at the Clarion School.

Among the guests at the luncheon will be many of the season's most popular entertainers including Barbara Bigel and her house guest, Lorna Roberts of Buffalo, Beatrice Tallent, Edwin Moffat Gail Neilsen Janet Rogers Dorothy Storer Elizabeth Strong Barbara Bullitt, Sally Brewer, Ann Godfrey Lena Ernst, Etsay Chandler, Loran Pettall and Merrill Bunch.

Still others will be Cornelia Baker, Rhoda Belknap, Joann Hoyt, Mary Macomber, Nancy McNeil, Hetty Miller, Rosemond Higgins, Celia Hubbard, Mary Lina, Mercedes Madden, Alice Chapin, Frances Walker, Joanna Wallace, Marletta Withington and a number of others.

Catholic Alumnae To Meet

A great deal of enthusiasm is greeting plans for the Massachusetts Chapter of International Catholic Alumnae's annual college day, Saturday, on the campus of Our Lady of Elm in Chicopee.

The program will open at noon with luncheon. In the afternoon a panel discussion, with graduates of various colleges participating, will present the education advantages of Catholic colleges and academies throughout the country.

Representatives of local schools planning to attend include Eleanor Farrell of Marychiff Academy, Helen Callaghan of West Roxbury, Mary Ryan of Tyngsboro, Catherine Howard of Rosary Academy, Agnes Linnehan of the Academy of the Assumption and Mrs. Martin Caulfield of Roxbury Academy of Notre Dame.

Emmanuel '38 Will Be Feted

Members of the Emmanuel College class of 1928 will be welcomed at the first meeting of the alumni this season.

Katherine Connel of Cambridge will preside as leader of the group. Ted and a number will be the highlights of the day planned by Guey-Suey Bailey, executive chairman.

Representatives of other churches helping with arrangements of the bazaar are Helen Leonard of the First Baptist Church, Mary Gordon, Rosemary Munkick, Miriam Macle, Agnes Bixby, Katherine Dwyer and Mary Rita Gurney.

Hanley Picks Eagles, Green

(Gregory (Gus) Zitrides, one of Dartmouth's A-1 guards)

By L. B. "PAT" HANLEY

Head Coach at Boston University

New England's only two undefeated and untied major elevens face stern tests this week-end. Boston College left for Philadelphia early today to meet Temple under lights tomorrow evening while Dartmouth heads for Boston to clash with Harvard.

Just how well these two teams will perform under such conditions is hard to say. But it is certain that the Eagles and the Green will be in for a hard fight.

The Eagles have been playing their under-nights and perfect schedule to date. They are 10-0 in all games. Their record is 10-0 in all games. Their record is 10-0 in all games.

At the same time, the Green have been playing their under-nights and perfect schedule to date. They are 10-0 in all games. Their record is 10-0 in all games.

EAGLES

Now as to the Green. They are 10-0 in all games. Their record is 10-0 in all games. They are 10-0 in all games. Their record is 10-0 in all games.

But even though the Eagles are 10-0 in all games, they are not invincible. They are not invincible. They are not invincible.

Over at the Stadium Saturday Harvard, which has yet to win its first game, faces Dartmouth, which has yet to lose its first game. On from Dartmouth must naturally be the selection. Impressive methods in which the Big Green power showed against Princeton and Brown cannot be forgotten.

HARVARD IMPROVING

Yet Harvard cannot be too greatly underestimated. The Crimson has shown remarkable improvement each week, although the old records still show three losses against no victors. The Harvard team has been playing their under-nights and perfect schedule to date. They are 10-0 in all games. Their record is 10-0 in all games.

At the same time, the Green have been playing their under-nights and perfect schedule to date. They are 10-0 in all games. Their record is 10-0 in all games.

But even though the Eagles are 10-0 in all games, they are not invincible. They are not invincible. They are not invincible.

CLOSE CONTEST

There is the possibility that the two teams will have a close contest. There is the possibility that the two teams will have a close contest.

But even though the Eagles are 10-0 in all games, they are not invincible. They are not invincible. They are not invincible.

Goalie's Wife Hurt in Crash

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. Oct. 20 (AP)—Mrs. Carol Karakas, wife of Mike Karakas, goalie on the world champion Chicago Blackhawks hockey team, was in a hospital here today, critically injured as a result of an automobile collision last night.

Doctors said Mrs. John Burgess Eberleth, Minn., her mother, was bruised and cut. Mrs. Karakas was en route to Champaign to visit her husband. The Blackhawks are training at the University of Illinois.

Dartmouth Here Tomorrow

Dartmouth will arrive in town tomorrow afternoon at about 4 o'clock when the football special carrying the team, coaches, band and students arrive from Hanover, N. H., over the Boston & Maine Railroad.

Team and the coaches will leave the train at Tufts College station, where buses of the Boston & Maine Transportation Company will be waiting to take them direct to the Stadium.

After a practice session there, buses will take them to Belmont Country Club. The main body of routers and band will continue on to the North Station.

Watch Out, Army!

B. U. Plans to Hand You Pasting

In spite of the fact that oaks can see better at night than eagles, Boston College should turn back Temple tomorrow night down in Philly. . . . Few football squads in this country can boast of the power that the boys from University Heights are capable of generating. . . . Although Pat Hanley is too smart to stick his neck out when asking to predict what's going to happen when his Terriers go over the top at West Point on Saturday to tangle with Army, Dr. John Harmon is of the opinion that B. U. wouldn't consider a victory an upset. . . . Bill Foley, Jr., son of the District Attorney of Suffolk County, will rejoin the B. C. High squad this week. . . . He has been on the sidelines for weeks with a broken wrist. . . . It's been an even dozen years since the National Hockey League was a one group organization. . . . After a very successful (1) season as road secretary with the Red Sox, Phil Trely is vacationing between Orlan down on Cape Cod and Tinnett. . . . Bill Stewart, Jr., is the standard of the Lawrence Academy back field. . . . Virgil Trucks will be tried out by the Detroit Tigers next spring at Lakeland, Fla. . . . Trucks, pitching for Andalusia, in the Florida-Alabama League, won 27 out of 35 games, pitching 213 innings, allowed only 12 runs and hit 143 batters. . . . And he struck out 418, a new high for a pitcher. . . . Harold Kallenberg, the Roselle, N. J., center, plays in a quarter school jersey. . . . "Moose" Fralick, the Canton boy, who has been working time with the St. Louis Chain Gang for three years, drops in at National League Field to play the school games. . . . He has won 71 games out of 101, pitching the Chain Gang. . . . It's Dr. Henry W. Brenner, not William H. who is officiating Boston high school games. . . . The N. H. L. ruling that no money in all home games shall be local men will work a hardship on the Chicago Black Hawks. . . . There isn't a hockey official in the World City capable of successfully carrying out such an assignment. . . . Jack Marks, who played with the famous Ottawa Silver Seven over 20 years ago. . . . Mickey Cochrane, former manager of the Detroit Tigers, is now in the rubber business. . . . The press buttons given out in Chicago Mickey Cochrane for this year's world series were made for 1937. . . . The "7" was changed into an "8". . . . Jack Hastings, who played with Harrington Racers of England last season and who was signed to a Red Wings contract by Jack Adams, is ill at his home in Kitchener, Ont., and will not report until next week.

Arlington Favorite In Clash

Somewhat nettled by its poor last week, Chelsea high expects to get back into its winning stride when the Red Devils face Arlington Saturday at Chelsea, although the handwriting on the wall points to an Arlington win.

Coch Frank Garvey of the Chelseans is somewhat elated over the return of Pete Maurano, first string center, who will be playing his first game in two weeks. Maurano has been out sick and his return will surprise his teammates.

Arlington, whipped for the first time last week, will be out for revenge but Coach Garvey believes his Chelsea side has a good chance of upping the program.

COACH ON BALL

"I scouted the Arlington Malden game last week," said Coach Garvey, "and I have to admit that Arlington is a great team. But our boys have looked equally as good and we're looking for an upset, or victory, as I should put it, to keep our record intact."

"There will be no changes in the starting line-up other than Maurano at center," Coach Garvey said. "I was not so was quite pleased with the work of Ed Givens in the Somerville night battle."

Glowacki revealed some fine kicking and passing and is sure to lift the burden from "Buck" Mugford, who has been doing the majority of the work in these department since the season opened.

The coach has two new players in the team, but he expects to find a few more. He is looking for a few more players to join the team. He is looking for a few more players to join the team. He is looking for a few more players to join the team.

BURNER TO START
His place will be taken by Ed Hubner who has been doing a fine job of burning since the season opened.

QUICK ON THE FEET
Arlington in action and realize that they will have to be at their best to edge through on top.

But Coach Garvey is confident that his Chelsea side will be able to win, spirit throughout the squad that is catching on as the season progresses.

Through Being Holdout, Says DiMag

Mrs. W. J. Kennedy of Dedham proudly displays Erin Son's, and cup which famed hunter won. Erin's Son will be exhibited in Boston Horse Show next week at State Armory on Commonwealth avenue. The show, which opens one week from today and runs for four days, will be the 11th annual.

Late Start, Rain Hurt Him in '38

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, one of Colonel Jake Ruppert's wayward Yankees at the start of the 1938 season, confided in the home folks today—"I'm through being the holdout kid."

Back in San Francisco at picturesque Fishermen's Wharf, Joe talked with the humble fishermen who were his companions before he deserted the nets for baseball and who are among his greatest boosters.

"Yeh," said Joe, that's right, I'm through being the holdout kid. "I expect to be among the first in camp next spring and I'm gonna get myself in shape so that I can't miss having a good season."

Some believe Joe already knows what Col. Ruppert will pay him next season.

Joe thought he didn't have a very good 1938 season, but said his holdout for $40,000, final signing for $25,000 and lack of spring training were not the reasons. It was rain—two weeks of it—he claimed.

"To begin with I was going good," Joe explained. "But then we ran into a lot of rain. As a result we played but two games in two weeks. After that I couldn't get going again for a couple of months."

But when he did get going, Joe did all right. He batted at a .324 clip for the season, drove in 139 runs and whacked 32 homers, not counting the ball he put out of the park in the World Series.

"That homer I hit in the series off Dixie Dean was the hardest ball I ever hit," said Joe.

Report Medwick Headed for Reds

By Associated Press

Marquette hasn't got a football captain, but it has no less than 20 high school captains on its varsity squad.

A fellow named Pat Ryan, writes from Minneapolis that when the Gophers kicked the pal and seven-to-sized Michigan, a well-known headache tablet was retail at 50 cents a single.

Lou Smith, who usually knows what he is talking about, writes in the Cincinnati Enquirer that Joe Medwick is almost a "sure shot" to wear a Red uniform next season. . . . Mike Jacobs is due back from the coast tomorrow with an important announcement relative to a Joe Louis-Max Baer bout in San Francisco in the spring.

DUCKY MEDWICK

Apparently running down him in the San Roman family, Archie, who used to do his shift in the track for Emporia (Kan.) Teachers, has a brother, Egide, who plays a corner and tends vines, also at Emporia. He is not a bad second candidate, and the odds are out there wish he could run more and tinker less. . . . Living up to its reputation for brother combinations, South Carolina last week them against Davidson last week.

If Frankie Frisch catches on with the Giants, don't be surprised. That's what the New York papers are saying. . . .

Imagine the guy's surprise. On sitting down to rest at halftime, Jack Dorfinger, Scout Carolina tackle, landed on a bur you'll do that sometimes, you know and in the next period he drove right through to a touchdowns. . . . Elmer Mackney, Kansas State's line fullback, is so jittery they won't let him start a game. . . . Les Erickson of Michigan State is a fair weather football player—and admits it. In his six years of football (four in high school) he has yet to play on a rainy day. . . .

In four games played to date, Arkansas has scored five touchdowns on passes, with five different sophomores making their pay-off catches. . . . It wasn't a fraternity initiation when Bill Burke Marquette's right end, was seen sneaking through the town's principal thoroughfare the other night in his stocking feet. Bill played a football game that afternoon and went to the movies that night. While there his feet hurt, so he took his shoes off. And then could not get them back on when the show was over.

Boxer Pleads Innocent in King's Death

ROCKLAND, Me., Oct. 20 (AP)—Roy P. Worcester, Bangor heavy-weight boxer, pleaded innocent today to a technical charge of manslaughter, filed after his opponent, Henry L. King, 21, of Worcester, Mass., died at the end of their bout last night.

County Attorney Jerome C. Burrows' request for a continuance was granted, pending the outcome of an autopsy. Worcester was released in $2000 bail.

King died in the ring just as the bell rang to end the 10-round battle, which Worcester had taken by a fair margin.

Just before he went down, King took a terrific smash to the head. State Police Lieutenant J. Edward Marks, a spectator, said the Massachusetts boxer had begun to crumble before the blow landed.

Medical Examiner H. J. Weinman, who spent an hour trying to restore life to the fallen boxer, postponed an official verdict.

King weighed 200 pounds, and was rated a good prospect by managers. Worcester is heavier.

No official decisions are permitted in Maine, and the jury of sports writers was about to award the decision to Worcester when his opponent fell dead.

Burkard Girls In 11 Events At Horse Show

Ursula and Elise Burkard, Arlington sisters, who have offered the new Midnight Sun Challenge Trophy for the open saddle class at the Boston Horse Show, opening a week from today at Commonwealth Armory, are entered in eleven events.

They will show for the first time in the 11th Cavalry's eleventh annual tankard fixture their bay mare, Vivacious Lady.

This mare will be a contender for the Midnight Sun trophy, which her owners have given as a memorial to their famous champion, retired with due pomp and ceremony at last year's Cavalry exhibition.

Vivacious Lady also will compete in the novice, under 15.2, New England and local saddle classes. The two popular lassies will show their brilliant saddle pony, Hob Nob's Fancy, listed in three classes. Both will bid for horsemanship prizes, with Elise being numbered among the Good Hands Trophy aspirants.

Allan J. Wilson, one of Boston's foremost horse lovers, has entered four stars from his stable. They are the road hack, Top Sergeant; the three-gaited ace, Fair Knight; the five-gaited performer, Bimbo Rex, and the clever saddle pony, Hob Nob Girl. Ten entries were made altogether by the Wilson stable.

I.C. 4-A Harrier Meet Nov. 14

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (INS)—The I. C. 4-A's 36th annual cross-country championships will take place over a new five-mile course in New York's Van Courtlandt Park on Nov. 15. Asa Bushnell, director of the Eastern intercollegiate athletic committee announced today.

The association also will conduct its 19th annual freshman championship over the three-mile course the same day.

Present indications are that the entry list will be larger than last year when 120 runners, representing 23 colleges, competed.

Michigan State's fifth straight victory last year retired the I. C. 4-A trophy.

Gomez, June Golf

Lefty Shoots 88 at Niagara Falls

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Oct. 20 (AP)—Lefty Gomez and his wife, the former June O'Dea, were found on a Canadian trip today after ending their stay in this country with a round of golf.

"I'd starve if I had to make my living this way," the Yankee pitcher commented as he finished with a neat 88.

"But I don't care to shoot any better than 80," he added. "Because then you get crazy. When you get to doing a course in 75 you want to do it in 70, and then if no longer would be recreation." It was different with Mrs. Gomez. A first year golfer, who carded

106. She said she was definitely anxious to get her score below 100. The Yankee hurler and his former showgirl wife left for Toronto, planning to continue to Quebec where Gomez will hunt.

"K-Kid, Are Ya All Right?"

Amateurs
Look Good
To Ross

HERSHEY, Pa., Oct. 20.—"You're going to see some real action right off the reel," promised Manager Art Ross to President Weston Adams upon the latter's arrival here this morning to watch his hockey Bruins, 1934-35 edition, in action for the first time.

"In the first place, everyone of our players reported in such splendid condition," continued Ross, "that they really forced me to start real scrimmaging a day ahead of my original plan. With one skirmish under their belt, they're flying already, and I can't hold them back."

"One reason for this," went on the Bruins' maestro, "is that there is going to be a battle royal for berths on our third line."

"Not only are Red Hamill and Mel Hill, the Providence boys, going to push the regulars for their jobs on that line, but several of the amateurs, the best we've ever had, have shown enough stuff at that they can't be counted out either."

Among the amateurs who showed to real advantage in the season's first scrimmage that was ferocious enough to leave D. J. Clapper with a "skinner" were Pat McDeavy, Glen Sutherland and Gordon Bruce, all members of the Sudbury Wolves in the Ontario Junior loop last season; young Ray Conacher of the famous hockey family, who played with Wright Hargreaves in the same circuit a year ago; 18-year-old Terry Reddon, the high-scoring Brandon product; Harry Frost, second leading scorer in the Eastern Amateur League with Hershey, and Hugh Little of Halifax. All are forwards.

Ferrell Hurts Arm,
Stays in Hospital

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (INS).—Wes Ferrell, veteran right-hand pitcher of the New York Yankees, is chafing today over having to remain in a local hospital for several more days while Surgeon Chandler, younger member of the team, goes free.

Both underwent operations the same day for removal of bone chips from their respective right elbows. Both operations were a success. But Ferrell accidentally cracked his elbow after the operation and the resultant setback probably will keep him hospitalized until next week.

Biscuit, Admiral

In Fast Workouts

BALTIMORE, Oct. 20 (AP).—Perfect weather favored War Admiral and Seabiscuit as they worked out today for their historic race November 1.

War Admiral breezed a half-mile with Charlie Kurlinger in the saddle, being clocked in :12 2/5, :24 3/5, :36 4/5, and :49 3/5.

Seabiscuit ran the half easily in :11 4/5, :24, :36 and :49 2/5.

Rosenbloom, Baer
in Jacobs Mind

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20 (INS).—Eke Jacobs declared he plans to stage a fight in Los Angeles in February between Max Baer and Max Rosenbloom.

Crowley Sees Rose Bowl

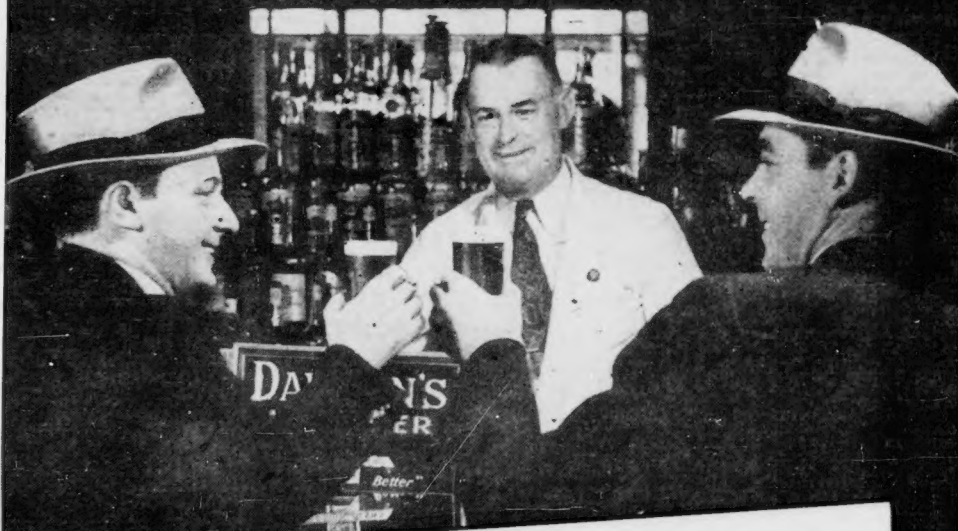

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP).—Well, they finally got Jimmy Crowley, Fordham coach, to the Rose Bowl, initiating him into the Circus Saints and Sinners Club, members decked sleepy Jim out in a long red coachman's coat, elk hat, and whip, and planted him in front of a big jug full of roses, labelled "Rose Bowl" at last.

Also at hand were signs warning "block that kick" in a dozen languages—including the Scandinavian.

MR. BOSTON

$2,000,000 Revenue; Charles F. Connors
From Racing Game; Expects "Yes" Vote

By JACK CONWAY

CHAIRMAN CHARLES F. CONNORS of the Massachusetts Racing Commission says that the perfect weather has caused attendance and mutuel handle to increase at the dog track at Wonderland Park.

Mr. Boston

"The way things look now," said Chairman Connors, "the State's share from horse and dog racing will be close to last year's total of $2,000,000."

Massachusetts, pointed out Chairman Connors, has conducted its end of the huge racing business without a single scandal. The Commission's system of supervision has kept everybody in line, and as a result the State and public have received full protection.

"I am of the opinion racing will win at the State election in November," asserted Chairman Connors. "I do not believe that the people of Massachusetts are going to throw $2,000,000 in revenue out the window, especially when they realize that most of this money would go into the State treasuries of Rhode Island and New Hampshire if racing were not permitted here."

If Massachusetts were to close down on racing, Rhode Island and New Hampshire would undoubtedly increase the number of their racing days. When Narragansett Park, under Walter O'Hara, was closed by Governor Quinn, Rockingham Park staged an extra meeting and profited by the difficulties of the Rhode Island track.

Drive for Harvard-Dartmouth Tickets

THERE IS A drive on for tickets for the Harvard-Dartmouth game at the Stadium on Saturday. A crowd of more than 50,000 persons at this New England classic now seems certain.

Harvard's brilliant stand against the Army, and Dartmouth's long run of gridiron victories have added luster to the Stadium game. The "Big Green" team from Hanover continues to rule a betting favorite, but it is expected that the Crimson will give an excellent account of itself.

Football is a game of upsets as a result of the forward pass. A forward pass frequently lands in the arms of a member of the opposition and is converted into a touchdown. It is also possible for a supposedly inferior team to win by the proper execution of a series of long forward passes.

Harvard does not share the general opinion that Dartmouth will win Saturday. The Dick Harlow eleven has been improving with each game, and will be prepared to go to town against the Indians from the North.

Harvard will concentrate on trying to stop Captain Bob MacLeod and "Wild" Bill Hutchinson. Last Fall it was Hutchinson who contributed the most to Dartmouth's 20 to 2 victory over Harvard.

Boxing Game Quick Road to Riches

JOEY ARCHIBALD, Pawtucket youngster who has won the world's featherweight championship as a result of his victory over Mike Belloise in New York, has proved that the ring game is one of the quickest roads to a fortune.

A few years ago Archibald was glad to box for a few hundred dollars at Eddie Mack's Englestone A. C. in Roxbury. He also made frequent appearances at the small clubs in Rhode Island.

As featherweight champion and successor to Henry Armstrong in this division, Archibald will receive large purses every time he risks his precious crown. There are numerous featherweight challengers and as a result the new champion should be able to keep active in the ring.

I hope Archibald does not make the mistake of remaining too inactive. A boxer will rust out quickly. Young boxers improve if they make frequent ring appearances against opponents capable of extending them.

Novice Classes in All-America Tourney

THERE WILL be classes for novices as well as for the more experienced boxers in the Hearst All-America boxing tournament which will open with trial bouts at the Arena on November 7. The Irish American A. A., which is co-operating in the staging of the All-America matches, is already receiving entries in the eight championship classes, 112, 118, 126, 135, 147, 160 and 175 pounds and in the heavyweight division.

There will be bouts for novices as well as for the experienced boxers at these weights. So tune up your boxing and punch and be ready for the first of the trial tourneys on November 7.

There will also be trials on November 14, November 21 and November 28. All trial bouts will be held at the Arena.

The New England finals will be dropped in at the Garden on December 5, while the All-Eastern finals will be conducted at the Garden on October 12. In the All-Eastern finals there will be teams competing from New England, New York, Albany, Syracuse and Baltimore.

The All-Eastern finals of the Hearst All-America tournament last year was the most stirring ring show ever held in Boston.

"Tickey" Ford of Lawrence, one of the stars of last year's tourney, will be back from his boxing invasion of South America in time to participate in the Hearst All-America.
